Scatter the Germs of the Beautiful.

Scatter the germs of the beautiful!
By the wayside let them fall.
That the rose may spring from the cottage gate,
And the vine in the garden wall;
Cover the rough and the rude of earth
With a veil of leaves and flowers,
And mark with the opening bud and cup
The march of summer hours.

Scatter the germs of the beautiful
In the holy shrine of home;
Let the fair, and the poor, and the graceful there,
In their loveliest lustre come;
Leave not a trace of deformity
In the temple of the heart,
But gather about its hearth the gems
Of Nature and of Art.

Scatter the germs of the beautiful
In the temples of our God—
The God who starred the uplifted sky,
And flowered the trampled sod,
When he builds a temple for himself
And a home for his priestly race,
He reared each arch in symmetry,
And curved each line in grace.

Scatter the germs of the beautiful
In the depth of the human soul,
They shall bud and blossom and bear the fruit,
While the endless ages roll.
Plant with the flowers of Charity
The portals of the tomb,
And the fair and the pure about thy path
In Paradise shall bloom.

Miscellaneous.

Beware of Idleness.

It is a sad sight to see boys gathering on wharves, or at the corners of the street, or anywhere, idling away their time, because it is certain

Satan finds some mischief still
For idle hands to do.

Idle boys, too, are pretty sure to grow up loafers. I look into the dictionary, and find that loafers are idle men, who get their living by sponging. And what is sponging? It is to gain by mean acts. A loafer then is a man who gets his living by mean ways. Of course he is a low fellow; his talk is low, his aims are low, his spirit is mean. He has the temper and habits which decidedly and naturally lead to all kinds of evil. House-breakers, pick-pockets, robbers, all come from this class; and indeed idle boys sometimes take their first lessons in wickedness very early.

In looking over our police records I find a great many children, girls as well as boys, brought up for "petty larceny," which means, stealing little things; and these little thieves are all from the class of children who play truant and are idlers.

If you are a school boy, run to school, don't stop by the way.

If you are going home, go.

If you are out at play, play with all your heart, play with a will. Have have as good fun as you please; but when you have done, quit; do not be a hanger on anywhere.

I am speaking to girls as well as boys; for I am sorry to say, girls, sometimes very little girls, have been found with those idle hands which Satan always finds mischief for. Let this be your rule:

In books and work and healthy play
Let my first years be passed,
That I may give for every day
A good account at last.

The Echo.

Did you ever hear an echo? In some places in the mountains and among the great rocks, if you shout your name aloud, you will hear it repeated, now on one side and now on another, so plainly that you would think some one was looking at you and speaking to you.

Once there was a boy, who knew nothing about the echo, wandering over a mountain. It seemed very lonely, and he cried aloud, and was surprised to hear a voice, as he thought, mocking. Then he became angry, and ran to find the boy who had tried to mock him. But he found no one; and he began to call that boy all kinds of hard names, and to abuse him in every way; still all his angry words and tones came back to him. When he arrived at home he told his mother that a boy had been calling him hard and wicked names. But the mother took her child by the hand, and said, "My child, those names were only the echoes of your own voice. Whatever you called was repeated to you from the hillside. Had you called out pleasant words, pleasant words would have been returned to you. So it often is in life: the world is very likely to be only an echo of your own heart. If you feel and show anger and unkindness to others, they will probably be angry and unkind to you; but if you love them they will love you.

☞"The benevolent man loves mankind; the courteous man respects them. He who loves men will be loved by them; he who respects men will be respected by them."

"If I am treated rudely, let me examine into the cause, and if I cannot discover any sort of impropriety in my own conduct, I may disregard the rudeness, and consider him who displays it as no better than a brute, and why should the conduct of a brute disturb me?"

"Who, by a tortuous example, has ever made men straightforward and sincere? Who by dishonoring himself can render others honorable? Holy men do not necessarily resemble one another; some seek solitude and retirement; others exhibit themselves, and approach the neighborhood of authority; some are exiled, others remain at home. The object of all perfect men is to be pure, free from stain, and this alone."

☞A man is not qualified for his life-duties till he has graduated in a high-school of a true woman's heart.

A Happy Home.

A pleasant and sensible writer says that in a happy home there will be no fault-finding, over-bearing spirit—there will be no peevishness nor fretfulness. Unkindness will not dwell in the heart or be on the tongue. O, the tears, the sighs, the wasting of life and health, strength and time, of all that is most to be desired in a happy home, occasioned merely by unkind words! The celebrated Mr. Wesley remarks to this effect, namely, that fretting and scolding seem like tearing the flesh from the bones, and that we have no more right to be guilty of this sin, than we have to curse and swear and steal. In a perfect, happy home all selfishness will be removed. Even as "Christ pleased not himself," so the members of a happy home will not seek first to please themselves, but will seek to please each other.

Cheerfulness is another ingredient in a happy home. How much does a sweet smile emanating from a heart fraught with love and kindness, contribute to render a home happy? How attractive, how soothing is that sweet cheerfulness that is borne on the countenance of wife and mother! How do the parent and child, the brother and sister, the mistress and servant, dwell with delight on those cheerful looks, those confiding smiles that beam from the eye, and burst from the inmost soul of those who are near and dear. How it hastens the return of the father, lightens the cares of the mother, renders it more easy for youth to resist temptation, and drawn by the cords of affection, how it induces them with loving hearts to return to the parental roof. O that parents would lay this subject to heart—by untiring effort they would so far render home more happy, that their children and domestics shall not look for happiness in forbidden paths!

The Shepherd and his Sheep.

A man in India was accused of stealing a sheep. He was brought before the judge, and the supposed owner of the sheep was also present. Both claimed the sheep, and had witnesses to prove their claims, so that it was not easy for the judge to decide to which the sheep belonged.

Knowing the customs of the shepherds, and the habits of the sheep, the judge ordered the sheep to be brought into court, and sent one of the two men into another room, while he told the other to call the sheep, and see if it would come to him.—But the poor animal, not knowing the "voice of a stranger," would not go to him. In the mean time, the other man, who was in an adjoining room, growing impatient, and probably suspecting what was going on, gave a kind of "chuck," upon which the sheep bounded away towards him at once. This "chuck" was the way in which he had been used to call the sheep; and it was at once decided that he was the real owner.

Thus we have a beautiful illustration of John x. 4, 5—"And the sheep follow him: for they know his voice. And a stranger they will not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers."

The Young Wife's Response.

"Why art thou sad, my love, to-day?—What grief is frowning o'er thy heart? Why dost thou droop and turn away, and why do tears unbidden start? When first I wooed thee in thine isle—Erin, emerald of the deep—I saw thee, sweetest, only smile, nor ever thought that thou couldst weep. The sun of summer lights the earth, the zephyr's kiss is on thy cheek, all nature calls thee back to mirth, then be not, pray thee, love, so weak." While I thus spoke, my bosom's queen, one deep, fond glance upon me stealing, exclaimed, "my love, you must be green; its onions sure, I'm after peeling."

☞A gentleman in this city says, the other day a girl called at his door and asked if his family "wanted house help." He replied they did. "Do you have small children?" she asked. "No." "Do you have your washing done out of the house?" "No." "Will my room be carpeted?" Yes After going on awhile in this manner the gentleman turned the tide, and said he would like to ask her a few questions. "Can you play the piano?" he began. "O, no." "Can you speak French?" "No" Can you dance the lancers?" "No." "Well then," he concluded, "if you can't do any of these, you won't suit," and off went the astonished maiden smelling mice! —[Lewistown Journal.

FAME.—Of present fame think little and of future less; the praises that we receive after we are buried, like the posies that are strewed over our grave, may be gratifying to the living, but they are nothing to the dead; the dead are gone, either to a place where they hear them not, or where, if they do, they will despise them.

☞It was the custom of an old lady who formerly entertained travelers, before her guests commenced a meal, to ask a blessing, which she generally concluded in this wise: "Make us truly thankful for the food before us. Nancy, hand around the corn bread first, and then the biscuits afterward.—Amen."

☞A gentleman rode up to a public house in the country and asked, "Who is the master of this house?" "I am, sir," replied the landlord. "My wife has been dead about three weeks."

☞No man who has been consistently true and sincere has failed to win the confidence and favor of other men. No man in whom truth and sincerity have been wanting has ever long possessed their confidence and favor."

Cool Procedure of an Outraged Husband.

The Peoria (Ill.) Democrat, says, not many weeks ago, a man in good business and well known in the lower part of the city, became suspicious that the "partner of his joys, and the mother of his children," was not so regardful of her nuptial obligation as could be wished, and he straightway set himself to ferret out the case. Noticing that loving glances were exchanged between a boarder of the male persuasion and his partner aforesaid, he instituted a system of "picket" that brought matters to a crisis, for he soon had the satisfaction of proving his suspicion to have substantial foundation, by finding the boarder and the partner in the occupancy of the same couch.

Like a sensible man as he was and is, he said nothing, but only thought the more. Quietly he sold out his business and property, and, without indulging in any animadversions on the conduct of the wife, he yesterday informed her that he had concluded that his company had become irksome to her, and that —— —— could better solace her drooping spirits, and should leave them together, and then took his departure for parts unknown. This is about the quietest dissolution of partnership that we have ever been called upon to chronicle.

Sound as Young Timber.

Once on a time, not long ago, a good hearted man and his long tongued, style talking wife attended a social party. Almost every three minutes his wife would check her husband thus:

'Now, William, don't talk so loud!'

'Come, William, don't lean back in the chair that way!'

'Now, William, don't get noisy over there!'

'Say, William, let the girls alone and sit by me!'

At last forbearance ceased to be a virtue, and the husband, who was really pitied by all in the room, arose and said—

'I beg pardon of the company; but as my wife insists on being boss all the time, it is right she should have these!'

And he deliberately took off his pants, handed them to her, and sat down in his boots and drawers.

The company was astonished; the woman burst into tears; the happy couple soon went home; but neither of them wore pants.

How the affair was settled we cannot tell, but the last time we saw William, he had the pants on. We are inclined to think she will not boss in company in a hurry.—Holmes County Farmer.

☞A good story is told about the Rev. Robert J. Breckinridge, who was temporary chairman of the Baltimore Convention last year, and the late Thomas F Marshall, of Kentucky. Both wishing to establish a reputation in early life, measured lances with Henry Clay, and, of course got the worst of it. A few years afterwards, the two met—the latter being on one of his customary sprees. The lawyer exclaimed to his divine:—"Ah! Bob, it was an unlucky day for us when we tilted against the Great Harry! It drove me to the bottle, and you to the pulpit, Bob; but I've stuck a devilish sight closer to my text than you have to yours."

☞The La Crosse (Wis) Republican says that a returned soldier recently called for a glass of beer in that city, and it was dealt out to him in a small glass. He asked the saloon keeper if he had a pocket handkerchief to lend him. The rag was handed over, and he deliberately tied one end of it to the handle of the mug, and told the saloon man to hold the other while he drank his beer. Very much surprised, he asked the soldier what he meant by such a proceeding. "Nothing," he answered, "only the glass is so small I was afraid I might swallow it."

☞A Greek maid, being asked what fortune she would bring her husband, replied: "I will bring him what gold cannot purchase—a heart unspotted, a virtue without stain, which is all that descends to me from my parents."

☞At a young lady's seminary recently during an examination in history, one of the most promising pupils was interrogated: "Mary, did Martin Luther die a natural death?" "No," was the reply—"he was excommunicated by a bull."

☞The best description of weakness we have ever heard is the wag's query to his wife, when she gave him some chicken broth, if she would not try to coax that chicken just to wade through the soup once more.

☞Sweet words fly like honeybees from the flower-lips of a lovely woman, penetrate the heart, as with the shaft of love, and then fill the puncture with honey.

☞It was the custom of an old lady who formerly entertained travelers, before her guests commenced a meal, to ask a blessing, which she generally concluded in this wise: "Make us truly thankful for the food before us. Nancy, hand around the corn bread first, and then the biscuits afterward.—Amen."

☞Mr. Pullup, coming home late "pretty full," finds the walking slippery, and exclaims: "V-ver-very singular, wh-whenever water freezes, it allus freezes with the sl-slippery side up; singular!"

☞How can a man who has no wings be said to be "winged" in an "affair of honor"? Because in going to fight a duel he makes a goose of himself.

☞Those who are most anxious to learn our affairs are generally the persons from whom we should be most anxious to conceal them.

☞"Wood is the thing, after all," as the man with the wooden leg said when the mad dog bit it.

Divorces in Indiana.

An elopement which took place a couple of months ago has borne disagreeable fruit. A young and headstrong girl, daughter of one of the "first families," persisted, despite the protests and entreaties of the parents, in marrying a handsome but rather wild young blade. She eloped, married, returned, was reconciled, discovered an incompatibility of temper, was divorced, and is again in the bosom of her family, in the brief period of two months. Rather a rapid experience, even for this fast age, for a young miss in her "teens."

There is another case of a young and rather pretty female, who has within the past two years been married and divorced three times—twice to the same man. Taylor strayed off into Dixie, and fought for his rights with Simon Bolivar Buckner. Mrs. Taylor sued for divorce, got it, and consoled herself with a brief period of connubial felicity, wherein a Mr. Frazier was party of the first part. Taylor, having fixed up the matter of his rights, came up to look after his matrimonial interests. He prevailed on Mrs. Frazier, that had been Mrs. Taylor, that she should again seek the intervention of the courts, which she did, successfully, turning poor Frazier out in the cold, and again marrying Taylor. The last marriage proved incompatible, and the gay and festive lady soon managed to obtain a third divorce, leaving Taylor and Frazier to console themselves with the mutual recital to large circles of sympathizing friends of these extraordinary freaks of Eros, while the lady is sharply on the look out for number four. Such is life in Indianapolis.—This chapter in history is a commentary on the looseness of the marital bonds, and the extraordinary facility with which restive bondmen and bondwomen are released from the galling chains of matrimonial bondage—if chains which set so lightly can be said to gall. It shows the state of affairs which some years ago made Indiana the El Dorado of discontented married folks, has not yet been entirely done away with.—Indianapolis Correspondence Cincinnati Commercial.

Artificial Wants.

Bulwer says that poverty is only an idea, in nine cases out of ten. Some men with ten thousand dollars a year suffer more for want of means than others with three hundred. The reason is, the richer man has artificial wants. His income is ten thousand, and he suffers enough from being dunned for unpaid debts to kill a sensitive man. A man who earns a dollar a day, and does not run in debt, is the happier of two. Very few people who have never been rich, will believe this, but it is as true as God's word. There are thousands and thousands with princely incomes who never know a moment's peace because they live above their means. There is really more happiness in the world among the working people than among those who are called rich.

No Fences in Germany.

The Secretary of the Ohio Agricultural Society has been traveling in Germany.—Speaking of the country near Dresden, he says: "Every foot of land not in forests is cultivated. There are no fences; the field is plowed up to the roadside, and fruits and flowers are grown by every roadside that I have traveled; no one disturbs them. The cattle, sheep and swine are kept in the stables, or, if taken out, are under the charge of a shepherd or herdsman. Here and there, dotted over the landscape, we saw sheep in pasture, but have seen no cattle or swine running about loose.' The genus 'loafer' is unknown here.

☞We have often heard of the height of extravagance, says the New Bedford Mercury; lately we heard of an instance of the height of economy—bordering on meanness. A man of immense wealth in one of our large cities was sick. At length, after some weeks of illness, he died during the hours of night. A child, only heir to his vast estate, sat by the window, the next morning, watching the advent of the physician. As he approached the house, the bereaved one lifted the sash and cried out, "It's all over, doctor, you needn't come in."

A PROFITABLE NEWSPAPER.—The N. York Tribune on the 1st instant divided among its stockholders $50,000 as the profits of four months' business. As the entire original stock of the institution was only $100,000, the dividend is somewhat remarkable. The present capital stock of the Tribune Association, invested in machinery and buildings, is over $500,000.

INSURANCE.—The following toast was recently pronounced at a fireman's dinner, and was received with great applause: "The ladies—their eyes kindle the only flame against which there is no insurance."

☞Many persons have their best society in their own hearts and souls—the purest memories of earth and the sweetest hopes of heaven; their loneliness cannot be called solitude.

☞A late heavy fall of rain showed one ludicrous sight—an attempt to crowd two fashionably dressed women under one umbrella.

☞The foundation of good old age is laid in infancy. A joyous smile adds an hour to one's life; a heartfelt laugh, a day; a grin, one moment.

☞Look at the pages of your own heart and you will see a dim reflection of what the recording angel has written of you in his book.

Alexander Hamilton.

What strikes us most forcibly, in considering Hamilton's career, is the remarkably early development of his powers. At thirteen he was found competent to take charge of a mercantile establishment. At fifteen, his writings won for him public applause and the aid of friends. At seventeen, he addresses with success a great public meeting. At eighteen, his anonymous productions are attributed to some of the leading men of America. At nineteen, he has thought out that principle of government which is indelibly associated with his name. At twenty, he had not only proved himself a skillful and courageous soldier, but he has won the esteem of the grave and reserved Washington, and is placed by that great man in a post of the closest confidence, and which really makes him the second man in the American service.

At twenty three, he has shown that he is master of the intricate subject of finance.—At twenty five, after an active military life that had allowed no time for study, he is known as a lawyer of the first order. At twenty six, he is distinguished as a member of Congress. At thirty, he takes a leading part in framing the Constitution of the U. States. And, in his thirty third year, he becomes the most extraordinary finance minister the world has ever seen. He was statesman, soldier, writer, and orator, and first in each department; and he was as ready for all the parts which he filled as if he had been long and studiously trained for each of them by the best of instructors.

When Mr. Webster so happily compared the instantaneousness and perfection of his financial system to "the fabled birth of Minerva," he did but allude to what is to be remarked of all Hamilton's works. All that he did was perfect; and no one seems to be aware of his power until he had established the fact of its existence. Such a combination of precocity and versatility stands quite unparalleled. Octavius, William the Third, Henry St. John, James Fox, and William Pitt, the younger, all showed various powers at early periods of their lives; but not one was the equal of Hamilton in respect to early maturity of intellect, or in ability to command success in every department to which he turned his attention. The historical character of whom he most reminds us is the elder Africanus.

In the early development of his faculties, in his self-reliant spirit, in his patriotism, in his kindness of mind, in his personal purity, in his generosity of thought and of action, and in the fear and envy that he excited in inferior minds, he was a repetition of the most majestic of all the Romans. But, unlike the Roman soldier-statesman, he did not desert the land he had saved, but which proved ungrateful; and the grave only was to be his Literunum. He died not far from the same age as that which Africanus reached. In comparing him with certain other men who achieved fame early, it should be remembered that they all were regularly prepared for public life, and were borne to it as an inheritance; whereas he, though of patrician blood, was possessed of no advantages of fortune, and had to fight the battle of life while fighting the battles of the nation.—Nov. Atlantic Monthly.

Great Fire at Meadville, Pa.

BUFFALO, November 27.—A very disastrous fire occurred at Meadville, Pa., yesterday, by which an entire block of wooden buildings on Water and Dock streets were totally destroyed. The buildings were occupied by some of the most important business firms in town. The loss is estimated at $150,000, and from that amount up to $175,000. Eleven stores, including several millinery establishments and the Journal printing office, were destroyed. The insurance is small. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

☞The State of Georgia sacrificed more than half her wealth in the vain effort to dissolve the Union. When the war on the Government was begun, the lands, houses, slaves, merchandise, stocks and other possessions of the people of Georgia aggregated a value of over eight hundred and forty millions of dollars, while now the entire property of the State is not worth quite four hundred and nineteen millions of dollars. The heaviest single item of loss to the Georgians was in the emancipation of their four hundred and eighty-six thousand slaves, valued at about one hundred and ninety-four and a half millions of dollars.

☞The Nashville Union says: "The German farmers of Texas have again raised a cotton crop of superior quality to any grown by slave labor. It is a cleaner, fairer fabric, and will bring the highest market price. When the farmer works his own cotton it is tended and handled at every stage with the utmost care, and this care brings out the greatest skill. The delusion that cotton cannot be cultivated by free labor is getting rapidly disproved by actual experiment. It is probable that free labor will produce more and better cotton than has ever been raised before." Of course it will.

☞A distinguished member of the Senate Finance Committee has expressed himself in favor of reducing the taxation to the amount of $100,000,000, believing that the condition of the Treasury next year will fully admit of it. The Senator is opposed to substituting a tax on sales for the income tax, as proposed by many, although he admits there will probably be adopted some important modifications of the income tax laws.

☞Tom Sayers, the pugilist, is dead.

CRITICAL NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"It is the foremost Magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.---Methodist Prot. (Balt).

The most popular Monthly in the world.--New York Observer.

We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature ---Trubner's Guide to American Literature, London.

A STANDARD POLITICAL WORK

McPHERSON'S

Political History of the Rebellion.

THE Political History of the United States during the Rebellion—extending from November 6, 1860, to July 4, 1864, by Hon. EDWARD McPHERSON, Clerk of the House of Representatives of the United States, is destined to become a standard authority concerning these stirring times, and is among the most useful and interesting books now before the public.

It contains the various STATE PAPERS of the period—Executive, Judicial, and Legislative—and those of the Military which bear upon political questions: also the Propositions submitted to, and the Laws enacted by Congress, with the vote in each House, upon every leading question, such as Confiscation, Arrests, Habeas Corpus, Compensated Emancipation, and every phrase of the Slavery Question; also the "Legal Tender," State Taxation, and other features of our Financial Legislation, with Tables of the National and Rebel Debt; all the Military Legislation, including every Proposition and vote at the late Session respecting the Draft, and all the Propositions for the last four years, in reference to the Objects of the War and its Prosecution, to Peace and Reconstruction, with the votes thereon, in both the Union and Rebel Congresses—a record, of itself, worth the price of the book.

It also contains a full and fair record of the proceedings in and out of Congress, between the Presidential Election of 1860 and the breaking out of the War; including a statement of each Adjustment Proposition made, and votes taken, and all other data necessary to give a clear view of that event, in all its bearings and relations. It also contains the names of the persons composing the Union and Rebel Administrations and Congresses, with the changes therein, and such of the Rebel Legislation, Judicial Rulings, Proclamations, Orders, and Items, as throw light upon the progress of events—the work forming a magazine of facts arranged in logical order, or grouped in natural harmony, and constituting a most valuable contribution to the Historical literature of the country.

In all the votes, parties are classified.

The Index is thorough, both as to names and subjects, giving the reader entire command of the contents.

Letter from Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher, in 1861.

I am most happy to speak in the very highest terms of the "UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER." The hardest part of "washing day" work is in my opinion, the wringing; and the inventor of this machine may have the satisfaction of feeling that he has changed one of the most toilsome parts of woman's work into a very attractive amusement. The laundress looks upon upon it as a great blessing. I look upon it as among the most useful articles in the house.

ARRANDALE & CO.,
Manufacturers' Agents,
No. 167 Broadway, New York.

Announce that all of the above list of goods will be sold for One Dollar each

In consequence of the great stagnation of trade in the manufacturing districts of England through, the war having cut off the supply of cotton a large quantity of Valuable Jewelry, originally intended for the English market, has been sent off for sale, in this country, and must be sold at any sacrifice. Under these circumstances, ARRANDALE & CO., acting as agents for the principal European manufacturers, have resolved upon great Gift Apportionment to be divided according to the following regulations:

Certificates of the various articles are put into envelopes indiscriminately, sealed up, and when ordered, are taken out without regard to choice, and sent by mail, thus showing no favoritism. On receipt of the certificate, you will see what you are to have, and then it is at your option to send the dollar and take the article or not. Purchasers may thus obtain a Gold Watch, Diamond Ring, or any set of Jewelry on our list for One Dollar.

SEND 25 CENTS FOR CERTIFICATE

In all transactions by mail, we shall charge for forwarding the Certificates, paying postage and doing the business, 25 cents each, which must be enclosed when the Certificate is sent for. Five Certificates will be sent for $1, eleven for 2, thirty for 5, sixty five for 10, one hundred for 15.

WHAT THE 'PRESS' SAY OF US

The Lafayette (Ind.) Daily Courier, March 18, 1865, says: "A better selected more varied or fashionable assortment of jewelry cannot be found on the continent than Arrandale & Co are now offering. Messrs. Arrandale & Co occupy a high position in commercial circles as men entirely above the common trickery of trade. Their statements may be implicitly relied upon, both as to the character of their goods and the manner of disposal. Ladies especially, in all parts of the country, are realizing handsome profits as agents, and if any of our fair readers desire to interest themselves in the enterprise, they may do so with perfect confidence.

GREAT GIFT DISTRIBUTION.—A rare opportunity is offered for obtaining watches, chains, diamond rings, silverware, etc., by Messrs. Arrandale & Co., at No. 167 Broadway. They have an immense stock of articles, varying in value, and all are offered at one dollar each. The distribution is very fairly done—you agree to take a certificate of some article, enclosed in an envelope, and are not required to pay your dollar unless you are satisfied with the article, which will certainly be worth more than the amount, and may be fifty or one hundred dollars. An excellent mode this of investing a dollar.—Sunday Times, N. Y. City, February 19, 1865

Messrs. Arrandale & Co have long been personally known to us, and we believe them to be every way worthy of public confidence.—N. Y. Scottish American Jour. June 11, 1864.

We have inspected, at the office of Arrandale & Co.'s Agency for European Manufacturing Jewellers a large assortment of fashionable and valuable jewelry of the newest patterns. We also noticed a large quantity of silver plate, and understand that the whole of these newly imported articles are to be disposed of on a novel principle, giving great advantages to buyers, and affording extensive employment to agents. We know the firm in question to be a very respectable and thoroughly worthy of public confidence and recommend our friends to read their advertisement. — N. Y. Albion, Sept. 3, 1864.

EMPLOYMENT FOR LADIES.—The most eligible and profitable employment we have heard of for ladies is the sale of certificates for the Great Gift Distribution of Arrandale & Co. A lady of our acquaintance has been very successful in this way, not only in filling her own purse, but also in doing a good turn to those to whom she sold the Certificates, as will be seen by our advertising columns. Gentlemen can also be thus engaged.—N. Y. Sunday Mercury, Aug 13, 1865

The British Whig of Kingston, C. W., says, Nov. 26th, 1864, "One of our lady subscribers became an Agent for Arrandale & Co., and by request brought some twenty articles sent as prizes for her agency, to this office for inspection, and without hesitation we can state that each and all of the articles were worth treble the amount of cost to the recipients, and some of them six times."

We have seen some very pretty specimens of Table and Teaspoons, Gold Watches, Ladies' Chains, Pins, Bracelets, etc., which have been sent by Arrandale & Co to this place for one dollar each.—Angelica Reporter, N. Y. State, Feb. 15 1865

AGENTS.—We want agents in every regiment, and in every town and county in the country, and those acting as such will be allowed 10 cents on every Certificate ordered by them, provided their remittance amounts to one dollar, also other inducements which can be learned on application. Agents will collect 25 cents for every Certificate, and remit 15 cents to us, either in cash or postage stamps.

The reader must be aware that however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect his bodily health, mental powers, and happiness, and that of his posterity. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

PHYSICIANS, PLEASE NOTICE.

We make no secret of the ingredients.—Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu is composed of Buchu, Cubebs and Juniper Berries, selected with great care, and prepared in vacuo by H. T. Helmbold, Druggist and Chemist, of sixteen years' experience in the city of Philadelphia, and which is now prescribed by the most eminent physicians, has been admitted to use in the United States Army, and is also in very general use in State Hospitals and public Sanitary Institutions throughout the land.

BUCHU.

(From Dispensary of the United States.)

DIOSMA CRENATA BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic; their tastes bitterish, and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulants, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs, producing diuresis, and like other similar medicines, exciting diaphoresis, when circumstances favor this mode of action.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu is used by persons from the ages 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed wetting in children.

☞Dr. Keyser is a Physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia.

MR. H. T. HELMBOLD:

Dear Sir—In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicated agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired in my judgment is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture, fluid extracts,—and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Twelve years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and without prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others. I do not value a thing according to its bulk, if I did other Buchus would out-do yours, but I hold to the doctrine that bulk and quantity do not make up value—if they did a copper cent would be worth more than a gold dollar.

I value your Buchu for its effect on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu, or any other proprietory compound of whatever name. Respectfully, yours, &c.,

LABOR IN VIRGINIA.—The farmers of Buckingham county, Va., held a meeting some days ago, in which they pledged themselves under no circumstances to rent lands to freedmen; but gave each the privilege of allowing freedmen a portion of the crops in lieu of wages; the proprietor, however, retaining entire and exclusive control of the premises. It will be considered by them right and proper for every farmer to employ freedmen, without reference to the claims of former owners, but it is suggested that in all cases certificates of good character be required from those parties. The meeting was influenced by no unkind feelings towards the freedmen, but announced, under resolution, that it was simply desirous of establishing such regulations as will render him available as a laborer.—Richmond Enquirer.

TROUBLE WITH A SHOWMAN.—It appears that the town council and burgesses of Girard, Erie county, Pa., are in trouble with Dan Rice concerning the monument lately erected in that village by the latter. Before that memorial was accepted by the borough authorities, Rice stipulated that no inscription other than that necessary to commemorate the soldiers should be placed thereon. This fact is of record on the minutes of the town council. After its erection and acceptance Rice had the shaft inscribed with his own name, so as to commemorate the living as a clown, as well as the dead as heroes. This violation of faith on the part of the jester has given great dissatisfaction to the people of Erie county.—Cleveland Herald.

☞A verdict of $5,000 was rendered at New York on Wednesday by a jury in the Supreme Court, in the case of John Scappun vs. the Second avenue Railroad Company. The action was brought to recover $10,000 for injuries received by reason of the alleged negligence of the company in recklessly running their car over the defendant while he was endeavoring to cross the track of the company's road. One of the plaintiff's legs was broken in two places and the other one fractured below the knee. He was a bookbinder by occupation, and it was claimed on the trial that his injuries were such as to incapacitate him from pursuing his trade. The trial occupied two days. Important questions as to the liabilities of City Railroad Companies are involved.

Horrible Murder of an Entire Family.

ALBANY, Nov. 29.—On Monday night the family of Daniel Walrath, Manheim, Herkimer county—himself, wife, and a daughter twelve years old—were murdered by a party unknown. Walrath was shot in the head, and his wife's head was mashed in, and the child's throat was cut. There is as yet no clue to the murder.

☞A serious and fatal accident occurred on Wednesday to the night express train going South on the Orange and Alexandria Railroad. A car was thrown from the track, instantly killing three men and injuring twenty-eight others. The injured men were all soldiers belonging to the 96th New Jersey Volunteers.

THE GROVESTEEN PIANO FORTE still retains its precedence and great popularity, and after undergoing gradual improvements for a period of thirty years, is now pronounced by the musical world to be unsurpassed and even unequalled in richness, volume, and purity of tone, durability and cheapness. Our new scale, French action, harp pedal, iron frame, over-strung bass, seven octave, rosewood pianos we are selling cheaper by from 100 to $200 than the same style and finish are sold by any other first-class makers in the country. Dealers and all in want of good pianos are invited to send for our Descriptive Catalogue, which contains photographs of our different styles, together with prices. No one should purchase a piano without seeing this Catalogue. Medals, almost without number, have been awarded to the Grovesteen Piano, and at the Celebrated World's Fair, though put in competition with others from all parts of Europe and the United States, it took the highest award.

SPLENDID

Jewelry, Watches, Diamonds, &c.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS!

THE house of BOSANQUET, GIRAUD & CO., Paris, have the pleasure of announcing that they have opened an Agency in the city of New York, for the sale of their widely known JEWELRY, WATCHES, &c., and for the purpose of making their goods as extensively known and appreciated in the United States as they now are, and have been for over 70 years, in Europe, they have determined on a plan by which poor and rich alike may have the advantage of their splendid styles. As a preliminary, they would remark that they manufacture and sell no imitation Jewelry or Watches, but

ALL ARE WARRANTED GOLD OF THE FINEST WORKMANSHIP.

Our customers will also have the greatest advantage of a constant succession of new and recherche styles and patterns with which we shall keep our New York Agency supplied.

We have adopted the plan of sale, now so popular, of charging a uniform price, and this price will invariably be $2 for each article, no matter how costly it may be. The expenses of conducting our New York Agency are paid by the sale of Certificates or Coupons representing the various articles. These Certificates are sold at 50 cents each, or five for $2, and each Certificate will show the holder the particular article he or she is entitled to, on payment of an additional $2. If the article named on the Certificate is not desired, the holder will oblige us, when he returns the Certificate, by stating what other article of the same value he or she may prefer, and it will be sent with pleasure. Our aim is to please, and every means to that end will be exerted. We solicit a trial from every one who reads this notice as we are confident of giving the utmost satisfaction.

THE STOCK COMPRISES

Amongst other articles, Splendid Clocks, Gold and Silver Watches, Rings set with Diamonds, Rubies, Pearls, Garnet and other Stones, (solitaire and in clusters), Ladies' sets of Jewelry, comprising Pins and Ear-rings of the most fashionable styles, set in Precious Stones of every variety, together with a large assortment of Gold and Enamelled and Pearl Sets, Gold Studs and Sleeve Buttons of the most beautiful patterns, Gents' Bosom and Scarf Pins, and an endless variety of Bracelets, Chains, Musical Boxes, Head Dresses, Combs, Charms, &c. In case any of our patrons are not in want of Articles of Jewelry, and would prefer Silverware, we will send, for any Certificate returned to us, a richly engraved SET OF CASTORS or BUTTER DISH, beautifully chased and plated.

AGENTS ARE WANTED

In every part of the United States and Provinces, and to all such very liberal inducements will be offered, and, on application, a circular of terms will be forwarded. We prefer money sent in Post Office Orders where they can be obtained, or by Bank Draft to our order. Address all orders to our Agency, which will be conducted by Messrs. JAQUET, STERLING & CO., 189 Broadway, New York.

ARTHUR MERTON; OR, Sinning and Sorrowing.

BY MISS CAROLINE E. KELLY,
AUTHOR OF "BERNICE, THE FARMER'S DAUGHTER," "ANDY HALL," &c., &c.
BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED.
Price, $1 25.

THIS is a book that cannot fail to do great good. It is from the pen of one of the most successful writers of the present day, as the name of Miss Kelly is a household word in thousands of homes where her excellent books have been read with avidity, profit and delight.

PARENTS!

The book will have a salutary influence in every home circle, because the narrative of "Arthur Merton" is a true one, in all its important particulars. He was a youth employed in one of our large cities, and through the example of wicked associates, he was tempted to do wrong. The evil consequences of such a course are most clearly shown, and the shoals pointed out on which so many sons make shipwreck.

TEACHERS!

If you would train the youth committed to your care, so as to enable them to avoid the vices and follies that beset the pathway of every one as he enters the threshold of manhood, by all means put in their hands a copy of the story of "Arthur Merton," that they may take warning from his example, and profit by his sad experience.

EMPLOYERS!

If you have young men around you entrusted with important places in your business, you can scarcely give them better counsel than is contained in this truthful picture of "Arthur Merton," who was but a few months ago in a position of trust, esteem and confidence. We have numerous testimonials in approval of the work from leading Religious Journals.

Single copies of the book sent by mail to any address on receipt of the price.

Sample copies of our paper, the Sunday School Times, furnished free on application.

Grand Jury Report.

TO the Honorable the Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions of Adams county:

The Grand Jury attending the present session, having visited the Jail and Alms House, respectfully report, that they found the Jail in a good and cleanly condition, under the superintendence of Sheriff Robert and family.

They take pleasure also in stating that the Alms House buildings are in comfortable condition, but find the cook stove insufficient for the cooking department. We found the appartments of the invalids and infirm inmates well provided for, and the entire institution manifesting the good care, kind attention, and prudent management of the Steward, Jonas Johns, and family.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Proclamation of the President—Revocation of the Suspension of the Privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus.

WASHINGTON, November 30.—The following proclamation has been issued:

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

Whereas, By the Proclamation of the President of the United States of the 15th day of September, 1863, the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus was, in certain cases therein set forth, suspended throughout the United States; and

Whereas, The reason for that suspension may be regarded as having ceased in some of the States and Territories:

Now, therefore, be it known that I, ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States, do hereby proclaim and declare that the suspension aforesaid, and all other proclamations and orders suspending the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus in the States and Territories of the United States are revoked and annulled, excepting as to the States of Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas, the District of Columbia, and the Territories of New Mexico and Arizona.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

{L. S.} Done at the City of Washington, this 1st day of December, in the year of our Lord 1865, and of the independence of the United States of America the ninetieth.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

By the President.

WM. H. SEWARD, Secretary of State.

Defeat of Indians in Nevada.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—An official telegram to-day from Nevada says: On the 11th instant Lieut. Osmer, with 60 California volunteers and a howitzer, attacked a large band of Indians who had fortified themselves in the Black Mountains about 100 miles northwest of Dungelenia, in the northerly part of the State of Nevada.—During the engagement one volunteer was killed and two were wounded. Of the Indians 120 were killed. Only a few escaped, and all their horses, arms and ammunition were captured. This was the band which three weeks since robbed the train and killed the teamster, and afterward obliged thirty armed men who were scenting after them to retire after an unsuccessful engagement.

No National Newspaper Organ.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—In a despatch to the late Minister Dayton, the Secretary of State said he might not improperly improve the occasion by remarking that the executive Government of this country has no organ in the press, and its views and sentiments in regard to France as well as to all other countries can be known only by the language of its diplomatic representatives, for it instructs them minutely and directs them to speak frankly and sincerely.

SHOCKING TRAGEDY IN ILLINOIS.—A terrible tragedy occurred at Shelbyville, Illinois, a few days ago. A dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette alleges that Thomas M. Thornton, Jr., of the firm of W. F. Thornton & Sons, bankers, walked into the clothing store of Max Deeman and deliberately shot, without any warning, Lieut. George Tackett, who was reading a newspaper at the time. Tackett rose from his chair and staggered toward the door, when Thornton shot him again, the ball entering his shoulder. Tackett then ran out of the door into the street, followed by Thornton, who again shot him in the small of the back. This shot brought Tackett to the ground, and Thornton then walked up to the dying man and placed his revolver to his head and shot him again, the ball passing completely through his head. Thornton then walked to his banking house, mounted a horse and fled. Nothing has been heard of him since. Tackett expired in a few hours Tackett's alleged familiarity with Mrs. Thornton is said to be the cause of the tragedy.

FEARS OF AN INSURRECTION IN TEXAS.—Great apprehension is felt throughout Texas, especially in the eastern districts, of negro disturbances about Christmas time. A general impression prevails among the freedmen that the lands of their former masters will then be divided among them. The planters, fearing commotion, are hastily sending their cotton and other valuables, together with their wives and families, into the seaport and garrisoned towns. It is expected that by Christmas time the open country will be abandoned by almost the entire white population. Many families have already moved seaward.—N. Y. Herald.

☞In the Court of General Sessions at New York on Tuesday, John Tilman, a negro of disgusting and revolting appearance, was tried for committing a rape on Lella Bevens, a child five years of age. He was convicted and sentenced to the State Prison for twenty years. Judge Russell and the spectators present at the trial all regretted that the law did not provide a more adequate punishment for such a wretch. His crime was swiftly punished, however; the papers having been brought before Judge Dowling by District Attorney Hutchings on Sunday, he was indicted on Monday and tried on Tuesday.

☞By the Scotia, with dates to the 19th of November, from Liverpool, we learn that the Shenandoah was to have sailed for New York on the 22nd Nov. The London Times proposes that the United States, France and England should issue a remonstrance against the course being pursued by Spain in South America. A deputation of Liverpool merchants had waited upon Earl Clarendon asking that prompt action be taken by England for the protection of British interests and British vessels in Chili.

☞The official returns from all the counties of Ohio, including the soldiers' vote, are as follows: For Governor—Cox (Union), 228,683; Morgan (Democrat). 193,697—majority for the Union candidate, 29,936. Alexander Long received 1,360. The other candidates on the Union State ticket received a somewhat larger majority.

☞A New Bedford paper gives a list of forty six American whaling vessels, with ten thousand two hundred and fifty two barrels of oil, destroyed by the Anglo Rebel pirates during the war. The value of the vessels is estimated at one million one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and the value of the oil at half a million dollars.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL,

GETTYSBURG:

Tuesday, December 5, 1865.

Thanksgiving Day.

Thursday next is the day appointed by the President and the Governor, as a day of Thanksgiving and Praise. There never was a time when such a pouring out of grateful hearts was more appropriate than now; and we think it will be more generally observed than ever before.

There will be services in St. James, (being a union of both Lutheran Churches) commencing at 10 o'clock; and in the Presbyterian Church, commencing at 10½ o'clock. In the evening there will be union services in Christ Church. Whether the other churches will be open we are not advised.

☞Congress would meet yesterday; and as there was undoubtedly a quorum present would organize at once. There appears to be no opposition of any consequence to Mr. COLFAX as Speaker, and Mr. MCPHERSON as Clerk. The President would probably deliver his Message to-day. It is looked for with much interest.

Little Folks' Fair.

We learn that the "Myrtle Wreath" association, composed of some little girls, are making arrangements to hold a Fair in McConaughy's Hall, on Friday preceding Christmas—the proceeds to be given to Ever Green Cemetery. These "little folks" have their heart in the work, and for weeks have been busy preparing articles for the Fair. They appeal to the older folks for help, and will be glad to receive contributions in money or articles. Give them a helping hand. The cause is a good one. Any person desiring to contribute can leave articles at the Post Office, or at the residence of Mrs. H. B. WOODS, in Middle street.

Mr. Warner's Lecture.

We had the satisfaction of hearing the Lecture of Rev. J. R. WARNER, on the "Battle of Gettysburg," in the Court house, on Tuesday evening last. The Lecture was thrillingly interesting, and was received with great applause. The spacious court-room was filled to overflowing; and there was but one opinion as to the vivid description and the eloquent diction of the respected Lecturer. He spoke from personal observation of the stirring incidents of the three great days; and carried conviction to every heart of the truthfulness of his interesting narrative. Some have differed with Mr. W. as to the presence of Gen. Lee in Gettysburg. He was correct, as is clearly established by indubitable evidence. He was known and recognized in Centre Square and other points.

The sum realized from the Lecture was $73.25, which goes to Ever Green Cemetery.

Soldiers' Reception.

The meeting held at Chamberlin's church, in Franklin township, on Sabbath week, to welcome the returned Soldiers, was a very interesting one. The weather was very fine, and the assemblage large. The officers were Jacob Mickley, President; Tobias Cover, Vice President; S. S. Stockslager, Secretary. The programme was excellent. The military were under command of Capt. McGinley. The salutatory was by Chaplain Conser, and was an able exposition of the causes and results of the late rebellion. It was responded to by W. W. Houghtelin, Co. B. 138th P. V. There was fine singing on the occasion, and excellent music on the melodeon by Miss Conser. There was a presentation by the audience of a collection amounting to $31.78—to the Chaplain, we presume. The whole affair was a very interesting one.

☞At an election held on the 6th of November last, for officers of the Gettysburg and Petersburg Turnpike Company, the following gentlemen were chosen:

President—Wm. D. Himes.
Managers—Wm. McSherry, Jacob Wirt, Geo. Swope, Joseph Bayly, John H. McClellan.
Treasurer—John H. McClellan.

☞Almost every day the battle field of Gettysburg is visited by parties from the South, friends of rebels who were killed in battle, for the purpose of recovering the bodies of the slain, with a view to having them removed and taken to their homes in the South for re-interment.

WILD CATS ABOUT.—Mr. Francis Will shot a Wild Cat in the mountain, a few weeks ago, and on Friday night last, Kinsey Cullison shot one at Weigle's dam, only three miles from this place.

☞Rev. Mr. Conser, of this place, delivered his lecture on "Demonology and Witch-craft" in the M. E. Church of Waynesboro,' on last Tuesday evening. The audience, says the Record, was large and respectable, and the lecture most instructive as well as amusing.

☞The State Central Committee of the Union party of Pennsylvania have adopted resolutions endorsing the restoration policy of President Johnson, and the principles avowed in the recent speech of Hon. Mr. Colfax.

A Noble Gift to Pennsylvania College.

We learn that the Rev. Mr. JOHN E. GRAEFF, of Philadelphia, has presented to Pennsylvania College a Telescope of the very highest order of excellence. This instrument has for some time been packed up in Philadelphia, where it was taken after its removal from the Sharon Observatory. It having come to the knowledge of Prof. MAYER, that this noble instrument was thus lying idle and awaiting a purchaser, he wrote to Mr. GRAEFF to aid him with his influence in getting up a subscription in Philadelphia; when, to the joy of all interested in the welfare of the College, Mr. GRAEFF unexpectedly presented it himself.

The possession of this instrument forms an important era in the history of the Institution in our midst, and cannot fail to give the incentive to others to follow the noble example of the generous giver.

This telescope was made by MEBZ & SON, Opticians, of Munich, in Germany. It is an achromatic refractor of over 9 feet focal length, with an object glass of 6½ inches aperture. It is furnished with five magnifying powers varying from 85 to 460 times; with a complete set of sun-glasses; a prismatic reflector; an annular micrometer; and a terrestrial eye-piece.

The instrument has two divided circles for reading off angles, of 9½ inches in diameter, finely graduated on silver to minutes of arc, and furnished with two verniers and microscopes which read to 4 seconds each.

The whole instrument, although very heavy, is so beautifully balanced on its centre of gravity that the slightest touch will move it readily; and when it is adjusted on a celestial object, a clock, attached to the telescope moves the tube of the instrument, so that it follows the apparent motion of the heavenly body, and thus, it is always in the field of view without requiring any further handling on the part of the observer.

This telescope has already done good work in astronomical science, and has been considered by the first astronomers in the country to be a perfect instrument.

The day cannot now be far off when Pennsylvania College will have a fully equipped Astronomical Observatory, which will, we hope, add by its contributions to the progress of science, reputation to the Institution, and honor to our country.

"Here truths sublime and sacred science charm,
Creative arts new faculties supply;
Mechanic powers give more than giant's arm,
And piercing optics more than eagle's eye!
Here man explores creation's wondrous laws,
That teach him to adore the Great Designing Cause."

Our Old Friends Coming Out.

The Lancaster Examiner, one of the largest and most profitable establishments in the country, has just clothed itself in a new suit from head to foot, and, as a matter of course, presents a beautiful appearance. It is the organ of the glorious "Old Guard," and, in latter years, has sustained a high reputation for sound political action. We give you our ☞, HIESTAND, and hope "your" shadow may never grow less."—When we meet again I expect to see it increased.

☞The Lebanon Courier, too, under the supervision of our friend WORTH, has just donned a new suit, as he says, "from its head to the footstick." Like HIESTAND, WORTH is a very clever fellow; and we can answer for the Courier, that it is among the soundest in the faith, and one of our best exchanges, from its variety, and skill of its editor in catering for the public. We see he is well patronized in every particular, by the appearance of his columns; for which we congratulate him. Our ☞ to you, too, WORTH.

Thanksgiving Day.

Thanksgiving, December 7, will be the 85th anniversary of the thanksgiving appointed by the Continental Congress at the suppression of the treason of Benedict Arnold during the Revolution. This coincidence of a second thanksgiving on the same day, for the same cause, is singular.

☞President Johnson, under date of the 27th ult., writes Gov. Holden that he will be sustained by the Government, and thanks him for the manner in which he has discharged his duties as Provisional Governor. He also says that "the result of the recent elections in North Carolina have greatly damaged the prospects of the State in the restoration of its Governmental relations. Should the action and the spirit of the Legislature be in the same direction, it will greatly increase the mischief already done, and might be fatal." He hopes the Legislature will repair the difficulties under which the State has already placed itself. The President has received a despatch from Gov. Holden, informing him that the Leislature had adopted the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery in the United States.

☞We direct attention to the advertisement of the Mexican Loan, in another column. It is offered in good faith, and promises to be a profitable investment.—Those who try it, even if it should not pay, will have the consolation of knowing that it was that much spent in the cause of Republicanism.

From the Carlisle Herald.

STRUCK OIL AGAIN.—Fifty barrels more best Refined Coal Oil arrived in town yesterday for WM. BLAIR & SON, who are doing a very large Wholesale and Retail business in the Grocery and Queensware line.

The Temper of the Next Congress.

The approaching session of Congress is properly regarded as one of the most interesting and important the country has ever known. The first business in legislation ought to be and will be to determine whether the South is or is not to be kept in a governmental condition unlike that of the rest of the country; for that will have a most important bearing upon all other legislation. Upon this important subject the N. Y. Times says:

"It is not to be expected that the definite issue, whether to restore the South to its constitutional powers on the strength of what it has done since its rebellion, or whether to require from it further action and a certain period of probation, will take shape at once. It is evident that the question will not come up upon a simple motion to admit the Southern delegates. It will be opened upon its own broad grounds, and in such shape that its decision will rest not upon the will of either branch of Congress singly, but upon the full agreement of both Senate and House, and the sanction of the Executive. What the plan and policy will be, no one can yet say; but it is certain that it will not be reached without long and earnest discussion. All of the earlier weeks of the session will be occupied in settling it, and it is thought that the spirit of the body will be more than usually free from bitterness. The immense Union majorities in both branches—in the House not less, indeed, than one hundred—will leave little play for mere party strife. The next Presidential election is far away, and there is no other political movement calculated to heat the passions and pervert the motives. There is every opportunity and every reason for the reign of calm sense, and a single devotion to the public service.

☞A large convention of the colored people of South Carolina met at Charleston on the 24th Nov. T. M. Holmes, a former slave of C. G. Memminger, ex rebel Secretary of the Treasury, was chosen president, and among those who participated in the proceedings was the colored Maj. Delany, late of Gen. Saxton's staff. The following resolutions were adopted by the convention:

Resolved, That it is with deep regret we perceive a willingness on the part of some of the people of this State to believe that there is danger of an insurrection, and we take this opportunity of making it known to the world that our past career as law abiding subjects shall be strictly adhered to as law abiding citizens.

Resolved, That as the old institution of slavery has passed away we cherish in our hearts no hatred towards those who have held our brethren as slaves; but that we extend the right hand of fellowship to all, and shall make it our special aim to establish unity, peace and love among all men.

Resolved, That we shall encourage the freedmen in acquiring habits of industry and obtaining education.

Resolutions were also adopted to establish schools throughout the State to educate the children of freedmen, and pledging the members of the convention to contribute liberally thereto. The proceedings are said to have been conducted with great decorum.

☞A Washington despatch to the New York Tribune says: "No part of the forthcoming Message has received so much critical care and Cabinet revision as that portion referring to our relations with Mexico. The President has evinced a wise statesmanship, without infringing our national dignity or popular traditions. He is understood as taking the position that while we cannot be indifferent to transpiring events in Mexico, yet interference on our part is unnecessary, and would prove injurious both to ourselves and the Liberal cause."

☞President Johnson has issued his Proclamation restoring the writ of habeas corpus in all the loyal States. The suspension of the writ is still continued in force in the States recently in insurrection, including both Tennessee and Kentucky, and in the district of Columbia and the Territories of New Mexico and Arizona.

☞Gen. Banks and Hon. Henry J. Raymond, both members elect of Congress, have personally assured Schuyler Colfax that in no case will they compete with him for the Speakership. It is believed that Mr. Colfax will not have a single rival in the Republican caucus, and this, of course, makes his election a fixed fact.

☞The tone and temper of the members of Congress who have up to the present time arrived at the Capital, Washington despatches say, indicate almost unanimity in opposition to the immediate admission of the representatives from the Southern States, and there is no disposition manifested to repeal the Congressional test oath.

☞The Railroad committee at Waynesboro' have appointed W. W. Walker and Joseph Douglas, Esq. agents to solicit stock subscriptions for the extension of the Gettysburg Railroad to that place, and they have entered upon the work of canvassing.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS.—The total receipts from internal revenue for the five months ending last evening amount to $151,028,104.08. The receipts for Nov. are $26,849,695.99.

TERRIBLE RAILROAD COLLISION.—On Friday morning last, about 8 o'clock, the Western express train, which left Harrisburg about 3 o'clock, ran into a coal train on the New Jersey Central road.; and, shocking to relate, ten persons were killed, and sixteen badly injured!

MUSTERED OUT.—Orders just promulgated from the War Department direct the muster out of about ten thousand more volunteer troops, consisting of infantry, cavalry and artillery.

General Kilpatrick on the Future Party of the Country.

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—Tremont Temple was crowded this evening to listen to a lecture by General Kilpatrick on the future party of the country. The General was introduced with appropriate remarks by Governor Andrew. He said in considering the question what shall be the future party of this country, that party must first of all be just. It must also be patriotic, not patriotism as a catch word, but the patriotism which had met and subdued treason against the country—the patriotism of Lincoln, Seward, Stanton, Grant, Sherman, Dix, Butler, Banks, Sheridan and others—the patriotism of Andrew Johnson who holds the destinies of the country in his hands. He did not believe that President Johnson had forgotten or would discard the promise of freedom made on the steps of the Capitol of Tennessee, or his language since, for the punishment of treason. That party also should be progressive, and, above all, truly Republican in idea and Democratic in all its operations. When this country shall have forgotten to act upon principles of justice, humanity and truth, it will have parted with the secret of its greatness. With an adherence to these principles the Government will be pure, powerful and permanent. The General concluded his lecture by an earnest exhortation for love of country, not so fully felt heretofore as it should be.

Our British Relations.

By the arrival of the Allemania we have news from Europe exhibiting the state of feeling towards this country to date of the 18th ult. Further correspondence had taken place between Mr. Adams and Earl Russell regarding the claims of our citizens for indemnity on account of the depredations by the Rebel privateers fitted out in English ports This correspondence discloses the fact that the commission proposed by Lord Russell was not intended to take the Indemnity claims into consideration at all. As the proposition for said commission emanated from the British Minister in the course of a correspondence growing out of the demand of this country for indemnity on account of depredations of the Anglo-Rebel pirates, and nothing else, it really appears to us that his explanation of the purposes of his proposed commission are puerile and trifling. We make serious demand for the adjudication of a grave question; England thrusts that question aside as already settled, and insults us with a proposal for indefinite purposes, no one of which are involved in the controversy on hand. It is as if a creditor approaching a heavy debtor for the payment of his just debts should be met with the response, "I have taken the benefit of the insolvent law, and will not pay," and should follow up that liberal answer by producing judgment against the estate of his creditor's grandfather, and demanding payment of them on honor.

The correspondence indicates a fixed purpose on the part of the United States to abate no jot or tittle of its demands.

Terrible Steamboat Disaster.

ONE HUNDRED LIVES LOST.

MEMPHIS, November 25.—A collision occurred last night between the steamers Niagara and Post Boy, on the Mississippi river, seven miles above Helena. The Niagara sunk in twenty feet water, and one hundred deck passengers, mostly discharged colored soldiers, were drowned. The cabin passengers and crew were all saved. The Niagara was valued at $130,000. She was not insured. There were two hundred tons of freight on board. The Post Boy was uninjured.

The French made to Evacuate Chihuahua.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Official news from El Paso was received this evening by Mr. Romero, the Mexican Minister, that the recent movements of the National forces of Mexico compelled the French troops at Chihuahua to evacuate that city and State and to withdraw to Durango. On the 25th of October the evacuation began, and four days later, not a single French soldier was left in Chihuahua. President Juarez writes on the 3d inst. that he was about leaving El Paso for the city of Chihuahua to re establish there the National Government This is thought to be a great success for the Republican cause of Mexico, since the French admit their inability to hold the conquered ground.

GAYETIES OF THE WINTER AT WASHINGTON.—A letter from Washington says:

There will be a good deal of entertaining this winter, after the holidays especially, by some of the heads of departments. Mr. Seward, who bears himself like a prisoner at business hours in the State Department, is very willing to entertain, officially and otherwise, at his house. Mr. Welles is not much given to parties—nor is Mr. Stanton. The President is known to have a great dislike to the pomp and show of dinners and public receptions, and will be glad to get off with just as little of this as is possible. But there are many Congressmen, and more of the lobby and lookers on who mean to entertain abundantly.

DEATH OF MR. VAN AMBURG.—Mr. Van Amburg, the great lion tamer and successful manager of menageries, and well known in Europe and America, died suddenly in Philadelphia on Wednesday.—His death was attributed to congestion of the spleen. Mr. Van Amburg was for many years a great traveller, and one of the most persevering and energetic men engaged in the hazardous professions of taming wild beasts. During his eventful life he made many narrow escapes in coming in contact with wild animals. On one occasion a tiger made a most savage attack upon him tearing him so badly that a portion of his bowels protruded. He tamed the animal finally and made him a great pet. The probability is that Mr. Van Amburg received more scars than other individual, while pursuing the duties of his profession, to show to the world the triumph of man over the most ferocious beasts of the forest or the jungle.

☞The Gold Hill News, Nevada, states that on the 7th ultimo, the overland stage carrying nine passengers, and the express of Wells, Fargo & Co., was stopped by five highwaymen below the Gould & Curry Mill, in Six-Mile Canon, a short distance this side the Bowery, and the treasure box taken, broken open and its specie contents taken and the passengers robbed.

An Imperial Samaritan.

The cholera panic in Paris, which frightened from that gay capital of France so many of the nobility and gentry, it appears has not intimidated the imperial family, who have made it an occasion to show that true charity and piety, as well as courage, may live in the hearts of royal personages. This fearful malady had made such havoc in many parts of Southern Europe as was well calculated to strike terror into the minds even of persons not cowardly in their dispositions, and it is not wonderful that the excitable people of France should highly appreciate such examples of true heroism as are described in the following extract from a letter from Paris to the Louisville Journal:

On the morning of the 24th, the Empress drove up to the entrance of the Hospital Beanjou in a plain dark carriage, drawn by a pair of post horses, and, attended by a single servant, descended and entered the hospital, accompanied by a lady in waiting and her chamberlain, M. de La Grange.—She was attired in plain black silk, and wore a gray bonnet She remained there nearly two hours. And from the best authority we learn she requested to be taken to the cholera wards, and approached the bedsides of the sick and spoke to them in solicitude and pity; knelt beside the bedside of the dying and endeavored to hear their last earthly wish; after which she visited the kitchens of the hospital and requested to see the food prepared for ordinary malidies. She then drove to the hospital Laribosiere, visited every bed in its crowded wards, and with words of womanly tenderness she strove to comfort the dying and give hope and courage to the convalescent. This act of fearless courage has proven that Eugenie is worthy of her exalted station, and but regards power as the means of enabling her to do the greatest amount of good to her fellow creatures. She seems to derive more pleasure from acts of charity and deeds of mercy than from the routine of State etiquette or adulation that surrounds her throne.

These acts of their majesties have made a deep impression upon the enthusiastic and impressible public, who are deeply touched by so striking a testimony of sympathy with their sufferings.

☞The Charleston Courier, in announcing the arrival of General Sickles, now in command of that department, has the following paragraph: "We are free to acknowledge our dependence on the strong arm of military protection during this transitory state of our local government. Agencies are at work throughout our border, which, unless counteracted by an authoritative organization, will have a tendency to jeopardize the life of every white person in our midst We believe the presence of Major General Sickles among us to be most timely and opportune."

☞All the volunteer troops of our army in Central Texas are to be withdrawn, and will be replaced by regulars. A large number of the volunteers, both white and colored, had arrived at Galveston from the Rio Grande on the 22d Nov, on the way home to be mustered out of service. Some of the Texan people profess apprehensions of negro outbreaks after the withdrawal of the troops, and have petitioned Provisional Gov. Hamilton for the organization of State militia.

INTERMENT OF THE DEAD.—An officer has been dispatched to the battle fields in the Shenandoah Valley by the War Department to look after the proper interment of the Union troops who fell in the many engagements in that vicinity during the war. It is stated that a cemetery will be laid out in the Valley, in which the remains of all Union troops now buried there will be interred.

☞A Washington despatch states that additional official intelligence has been received of the retreat of the French from the provinces of Sinola and Chihuahua, Mexico. Only a small Imperial Force had been left at Mazatlan.

☞The New York Tribune says: "We believe the census of 1860 will rank the chief cities of the United States in this order: 1. New York; 2. Philadelphia; 3. St. Louis; 4. Chicago; 5. Cincinnati; 6. San Francisco; 7. Baltimore; 9. Pittsburg; 10. Richmond."

☞The beautiful farm in Shenandoah county, lately owned by the heirs of Wm. Steenberger, deceased, was sold a few days ago to John G. Meem, of Lynchburg, for $24,000 in specie, or $84 per acre, the farm consisting of 287 acres. The terms are one third cash, the balance in six and 12 months. Mr. Meem owns about 5,000 acres in the same section.

☞The ram Stonewall arrived at Washington on Friday from Havana. During the trip she proved an excellent sea boat.—When off Smith's Point, Chesapeake Bay, a schooner attempted to cross her bows, but she was struck by the ram, sinking the vessel almost instantly. The crew of the schooner were saved.

☞In an assault case tried at Newport, R. I., last week, complainant testified that his jaw was injured so that he could not eat for a week. This, defendant's counsel contended should be regarded rather as a blessing than otherwise, in these days of starvation prices of all articles of household consumption. One cent was the damages assessed by the jury.

☞Libby Prison and Castle Thunder, so well known in the history of the war, will soon be transformed into storehouses again. Castle Thunder will be evacuated next week, and what few prisoners there are within its walls will be transferred to Libby Prison, which now occupies but one-fourth of the building known by that name.

☞The Hagerstown Herald states that in Washington county, Maryland, the poultry and cattle have been dying in large numbers, caused by some epidemic resembling that which has prevailed in Europe during the past summer.

☞It is authentically stated in Macon, Georgia, that Hon. Robert Toombs, who had been concealed for months in one of the adjacent counties, has eluded his pursuers, escaped across the country, and made his safe exit from the port of New Orleans for foreign parts.

☞Archbishop Spalding of Baltimore requests the Roman Catholic clergy of his diocese to comply with the invitation President Johnson to observe Thurs next as a Day of Thanksgiving for the turn of peace.

Jeff. Davis Not to be Released.

A Washington despatch to the Philadelphia Inquirer says:

The ground being taken by the Southern press and many of their leaders that they have committed no crime, but had the right to make war upon the Union, has annoyed the President no little, and there are indications for the last day or two that his purpose to let Jeff. Davis off will be abandoned. The pressure from every Congressman who has seen him is very strong for justice; they demanding that it shall be placed beyond cavil that a million of men have not shed their blood in vain; that it can only be done by the scaffold.

☞By the arrival of the steamers Nova Scotia and Allemania, we have foreign advices to the 17th Nov. The London journals publish additional correspondence between Mr. Adams and Lord Russell in reference to the Alabama's operations. Mr. Adams withdraws the offer to submit the matter to arbitration, and Lord Russell at great length attempts to justify the British Government. The London Times expresses the hope that the Shenandoah's officers and crew were not liberated without communication first being had with the American Minister, and expresses its disbelief of Captain Waddell's statement. Stephens, the Head Centre of the Feoians, and other prominent leaders of the organization had been arrested. The Continental news is unimportant. The cholera was still prevailing at Naples. The French soldiers were returning home from Rome, and the Emperor had ordered a great reduction in the army. The steamship Ocean Ranger, from Savannah, was wrecked off the Irish coast.

☞We have seen all the important parts of the correspondence between Earl Russell and Mr. Adams, recently published in England. Lord Russell, in a previous communication, had stated that "Her Majesty's Government are ready to consent to the appointment of a commission to which shall be referred all claims arising during the late civil war, which the two Powers shall agree to refer to the Commissioners." The British Minister now hastens to explain that "if the United States were to propose to refer claims arising out of the captures made by the Alabama and Shenandoah to the Commissioners, the answer of her Majesty's Government must be * For any acts of her Majesty's subjects committed out of their jurisdiction and beyond their control, the Government of her Majesty are not responsible. Mr. Adams replies to this by categorically questioning Earl Russell as to what claims the proposed Commission would be allowed to inquire into. Mr. Adams' inquiry was dated October 17; and two days later Earl Russell asked for time for the Queen's Government to consider the matter. Two weeks later, on the 3d of November, Earl Russell was still unable to give any reply to Mr. Adams' inquiry. In the letter dated November 4, Earl Russell argues at full length the supposed precedents of the present difficulties. He thinks that the laws of both countries with regard to neutrality might be made stricter.

☞A very important despatch from the President to Gov. Humphreys, Governor elect of Mississippi, dated on the 17th ult., has been made public. It was evidently sent by the President in reply to some demands made by the Governor. He is told by the President that "the troops will be withdrawn from Mississippi when in the opinion of the Government peace and order and the civil authority has been restored and can be maintained without them." And that "there can be no other or greater assurance given them than has heretofore been on the part of the President or Government. There is no concession required on the part of the people of Mississippi or the legislature, other than a loyal compliance with the laws and Constitution of the United States, and the adoption of such measures giving protection to all freedmen or freemen, in person and property, without regard to color, as will entitle them to resume all their constitutional relations in the Federal Union."

SEIZURE OF CIGARS.—Mr. Thomas Gorsuch, assessor, seized upwards of thirty thousand cigars last Friday, on the suspicion of an attempt to evade the revenue laws. The cigars were seized at the Monocacy Junction, to which point they were removed under cover of night, when his attention was called to the suspicious circumstances that induced the assessor to make the seizure. It was discovered that the person in whose possession they were found was transacting business without the requisite government license, which strengthened the suspicion that an evasion of the laws was contemplated. The owner of the cigars lives in Baltimore, and brought them to this city to sell. The case will be fully investigated in a few days.—Frederick (Md.) Examiner.

☞Yesterday we were on the eve of war with France—to day hostilities with England are equally imminent—if we may believe the London correspondent of the N. York News, who says "that instructions have been, or will be, immediately sent to the British Minister at Washington to ask our Government an explanation of its conduct in the matter of the Fenians, and, also, that the English people demand that the United States shall either suppress all public demonstrations of the Brotherhood in this country, or accept the alternative of war."—Bosh!

☞There is trouble between the Milwaukie and La Crosse Railroad line Company and the farmers along that line. The farmers have mortgaged their farms to the amount of a million of dollars, and the mortgages are now being fore-closed. On Monday night considerable of the track of the road was torn up and a bridge was destroyed eighteen miles from Milwaukie, and it said the farmers threaten to destroy the entire line, unless the Company make provision for the payment of the mortgages.

☞A Washington despatch says that it may be asserted with confidence that there is no truth whatever in the statement that Jeff. Davis is to be tried by a military court. There is good reason to believe that President Johnson will in a few days issue a proclamation restoring the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus, and as a consequence, therefore, there will be no military com- or courts to try offences in districts the cases can be disposed by civil ls.
